

MIS 7397: Energy Trading Systems

Cr. 3.0 (3.0.0). Prerequisites: Graduate Standing. This course covers the prevalent computer technologies, processes and practices in support of energy commodity trading with emphasis on the US domestic market. Topics covered include a history of deregulation of energy commodities in the US, the US interstate pipeline system, basic energy deal types, financial trading and hedging, commodity risk management and the business systems and practices necessary to succeed in the modern energy trading environment.