

Robert A. Casey

Associate Dean of External Relations

C. T. Bauer College of Business

Robert A. Casey is the Associate Dean, External Relations for the Bauer College of Business. He joined the Bauer team in 2000 following eight highly successful years of fundraising and development for the McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin. Prior to entering the field of college development, Mr. Casey completed a distinguished career in business.

He is active in community work with area charities, foundations and non-profits including the Salvation Army, the Marbridge Foundation and the Jesse Tree. He was a board member of Partners Bank of Texas (sold to Sterling Bank, 2007) and he serves on the board of several community, business and educational councils.

Mr. Casey received his BBA and his MBA from the University of Texas at Austin.
