

Alex Souza - Director, Program Management Office

Biography

Alex is part of the Americas region and he currently leads the Program Management Office which includes, supply chain innovation programs, process improvements in order to cash and planning and business intelligence and analytics. Alex is an HP veteran with 25 years devoted to HP, his previous responsibilities include, customer operations, sales call center management, factory operations, Latin America operations and Retail Operations.

Alex joined HP in 1989 as an intern student for the manufacturing operations in Brazil and his career in HP includes assignments in Brazil, Argentina and United States. Alex is currently based in Houston, Texas.

Alex holds a bachelor degree in Electronic Engineering from UNICAMP Brazil an MBA from FGV Brazil and organization leadership and finance from Rice University.

