

OUR CITY, OUR COLLEGE

Engineering Change

At the C. T. Bauer College of Business, our students are primed for leadership positions.

For instance, Bauer MBA candidate Brooke Thomas-Eben is a project engineering manager for Dow Chemical, where she manages a team of employees on a half-billion dollar hydrocarbons pipeline and storage facilities project. In a traditionally male-dominated field, she is carving a path for female leadership in the engineering industry.

Thomas-Eben exemplifies the typical Bauer College student — driven, passionate and innovative. Our students not only fuel the Houston economy; they serve as leaders in the city's top companies. We are Bauer, and we are your business connection.

C. T. Bauer College of Business is an AACSB accredited business school.

The University of Houston is an EEO/AA institution.
