Email submissions will not be allowed and the term paper can be dropped off at the Faculty Advisor's mailbox.

Following are term paper requirements:

The term paper must be ANALYTICAL, not descriptive, and should be approx. 10 pages, double spaced, 12 point font. Use your Marketing education and/or independent research to analyze some aspect of the organization or industry in which you did your internship. For example, if you have taken courses in selling break down the company's selling process, identify where there are opportunities for improvement based on what you know from your classes (or from research you have done, including any study of best practices), and make appropriate recommendations. If you worked on a Marketing campaign, consider the strategic and tactical objectives of the campaign, assessing how well these objectives were met and the reasons for not meeting objectives, and make appropriate recommendations based on what you have learned about Marketing (or from research you have done, including any study of best practices).

You should do some form of analysis for example, compare results with objectives, compare results with industry benchmarks, compare practices with industry best practices, compare practices with what you learned in class make some form of comparison or analysis, and base your conclusions and recommendations on that analysis. Do not simply describe what the company does and whether you do or do not like it. Do not just tell us WHAT; tell us WHY. Show that you are analyzing the topic and can support your opinions. Analyze and have a basis for any judgments you make.
