Mark Sudbey is Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of US Power Generating Company, which was established in 2003 to acquire and manage U.S. power projects and portfolios. Prior to joining USPowerGen, Mr. Sudbey was the President — New York and Southeast Regions within Reliant Energy Wholesale Group, a position he held since June 2003. He was responsible for all of Reliant Energy's activities in these regions. Mr. Sudbey joined Reliant in February 2002, where he served as Vice President of East Region Origination for the Wholesale group.

Mr. Sudbey came to Reliant as a result of the Reliant merger with Orion Power Holdings in 2002. While at Orion, he served as Vice President of Energy Management and was responsible for trading operations, origination, and all commercial aspects of power sales and plant commercial operations. Prior to joining Orion, he worked at PG&E NEG where he was responsible for setting up the generation trading function to incorporate power plant bidding and asset operations functions into their trading operations.

Before joining PG&E, Mr. Sudbey spent 10 years with New England Electric System (now National Grid) in various managerial positions, across a broad spectrum of business disciplines.

Mr. Sudbey's hometown is Weymouth, Massachusetts. He holds a bachelor of science degree in engineering from the University of Massachusetts.

DISTINGUISHED Leaders Series

ABOUT THE DISTINGUISHED LEADERS SERIES — Sponsored by Sequent Energy Management, the Distinguished Leaders Series was launched in 2002 with Charles T. "Ted" Bauer, founder and retired chairman of AIM Management Group. The series serves as a forum to connect students with professionals, most recently with those who are in leadership positions in the energy industry.
