

Tandra Jackson

KPMG

Managing Partner

Tandra Jackson is Managing Partner for KPMG's Houston Business Unit. She has over 23 years of professional experience across multiple industries, including energy and chemicals, industrial manufacturing and healthcare. Her experience extends across a broad range of areas including business process improvement, systems selection and implementation, IT audit, and governance and compliance.

As Office Managing Partner (OMP), Jackson's responsibilities include helping to lead the growth and success of the firm's audit, tax and advisory practices in Houston, as well as ensuring that KPMG's clients receive exceptional service from the firm and that partners and employees view KPMG as a great place to work and build their career. In her role, Jackson coordinates KPMG's community involvement activities and ensures the firm's professionals are "paying it forward" in their communities.

She is an MBA and Certified Information Systems Auditor, and a member of Louisiana State University's Dean Advisory Council and the Advisory Board of the National Association of Corporate Directors Houston Chapter. She also serves on several non-profit boards including, Ronald McDonald House of Houston (Audit Committee and Technology Committee), Greater Houston Partnership, Central Houston, Inc. and the Houston Zoo.

She is a member of KPMG's African American Network National Advisory Board. She has spoken at forums such as KPMG's Global Energy Conference, KPMG Insights, National Women's Council Houston Conference, Rice University Women Leadership Conference, Texas Society of Women CPAs, and the Women in Leadership Symposium.
